Vitu-reference to the remarks recently made as to the desirability of all Police Expeditions on to the mainland being under direct and special sanction of the Captain Superintendent of Police, it is desirable to point out a very simple mode by which the possibility of any such questions arising as those which sprang up in connection with Inspector BATTEN'S expedition, could be avoided. It would certainly seem that in all cases of importance one of the Superintendents of Police should himself proceed upon the expedition. There are two recognised Deputy. Superintendents of the force—one of whom has been absent for a considerable time on leave-and it would certainly seem that, in cases where the assistance of the Chinese I Mandarins is called in, one of these gentlemen should go with the expedition. It does not follow from this that he need actually he was bringing him up he was kicked by de. $600 for which a receipt had already been given take a part in the active operations, but it is certainly desirable that some one in a sufficiently responsible position should be at hand to decide on the course of action to be taken in the event of any unexpected difficulty turning up. So far as can be judged, it is of the Crown and Anchor to get the watch. and the question of the $60%. Mr. Degenaer mainly for such matters that the Deputy Superintendents are required, and we cannot see that while the Colony has to pay considerable sums to those officers, it is right to place matters which may at any time assume a merely of Inspectors. Where possible to send one baying a knowledge of Chinese is of course an additional advantage, and this might, we should think, also be attained. We certainly require that those occupying bim with a razor. The plan suggested would at all events have prevented not very much attention would be paid but Thornton applied by letter and personally some misrepresentations regarding the confluct of any Inspector who may not entirely chime in with the views of the native official for questions of this nature to be raised, as in getting up complaints and charges against they too frequently in such cases find it casy. to work on the imaginations or credulity of our authorities.

The Straits Times notes that the detention o the English mail is due, first, to a heavy galencountered in the Bay of Biscay by the Mool tan, from Southampton, in which she lost two or three boats and was detained two days. The accord cause of detention was some derangement to the muchinery of the Surat, from Suez, which did not arrive at Galle until the 28th December, though due on the 23rd.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

BEFORE F. W. MITCHELL, Esq.

The Police Court dock was well filled with a string of well-known bummers, amongst whom was the famous Ballingall, who has figured so often, doubtless considering the community are in duty bound to support him. So far he was favored, and was discharged, and the guol authorities told to supply him with bed and board, to enable him to look for something to do. Another bummer, equally as bad, named Ryan, having no sign to show who he was, or proof that the community was in duty bound to support him, was sent to 21 days' hard labor. Another, named Stowel, a notorious vagaboud, deserving of all he could get, one who would not work to save his life, was sent to one month's hard labor, the Magistrate observing a short sentence was of no use to him, as he was no sooner out of gaol than he was in again. Two others next came in turn charged by Mr. A. Grey, warden of the gool, with destitution. The first, T. Gibson, arrived in this port as a steward in the steamship Scot and, having worked his way bere from Gallo. He had in his possession a gold ring, but as he had never been up before he was discharged. The next, a carpenter, named Orders for Copies may be sent to the Daily | Martin, charged with destitution, appeared to feel his position greatly. He said he had come down from Kobe to this port, in the hope of procuring a situation, not finding any, and havng no money, he applied to the magistrate for a place to stay till he got something to do. He was sent to the gaol, but seeing a friend down from Kobe who owed him some money, he begged of him to pay it, so as to prevent him from having to go to a gaol to get his food. This friend supplied him with some money and as long as it lasted he did not go to the gool. It was his honest intention to work for his brend, as soon as he could get employment, and he considered it hard that the police should interfere with him because he was poor. H was a man who did not drink. Mr. Alfred Grey said Martin was a sobe man, but Stowel was in the habit of coming to the gaol at night to aleep as "tight as a lord." Martin was told that he could go to the gaol as usual, and get his food and sleep, and during the day he would be at liberty to seek employ-

A Chilian seaman was charged by a Ch lian boatswain, staying at Mr. Gardener's Boarding House, with stealing his watch, and pawning it to the barkeeper of the Crown and and Anchor for $10.

Complainant said that at 8 o'clock a.m of the 12th the defendant came up to him as he was standing at the door of the British Grown, and asked him the time. She was thoroughly cowed after having two more fits, and, being twice nearly choked, her alarm wasso great that, though every night previously she had had fits, she desisted, and in a month afterwards her mother told me with joy of her complete recovery. A few days later Mr. Stocker, whose experience is immense, told me how beneficial this plan was, and said, *You may remain for hours fighting with a screaming girl, but carefully choke them, and they immediately subside—it is unpleasant for them, it frightens them." The italies are those of the accomplished proficient in the art of choking. He ingenuously observes that "fright. fear of being choked, disagreeableness," are the main elements of his practice; that other strong means which might be recommended are cold water, threats, strong ammonia, galvanism, but nothing answers like choking. The fear of death and the intense discomfort are two factors, which produce such good results." In fainting fits he "believes in bolding up patients by their feet." He has quite a complete and ingenious theory of strangulation as a means of treatment, particularly applicable to women, and more especially those of the weaker or hysterical sort. It is happily summed up and aptly illustrated in a sentence which puts the philosophy of garotting in a nut shell. "The Russian controls his unruly steed by a rope round the neck; by this means the most unmanageable (hysterical) mares are immedicately calmed, and, like their
